Petitions on elected chairman are OK'd

By Scott Wuerz
Staff writer

Voters will decide this November if Madison County should overhaul its system of government.

A 55-page petition signed by more than 1,000 county residents was inspected and approved Friday by Madison County Chief Judge Edward C. Ferguson clearing the way for it to be on the November ballot.

The petition asks that a referendum be placed on the November 8 ballot. If approved, the proposal will place a "county executive" as the head of county government instead of the current county board chairman.

Granite City resident Joe McGinness, who began the petition drive this spring, said the change would make county government more accountable to the people.

The county executive will be elected to a four-year term by principle of the county, instead of being appointed county board chairman by the board itself. McGinness said Friday, "The county board would become purely a legislative body, and the executive would have veto power much like Congress. The board, of course, could override the veto with a three-fifths majority."

Ferguson said in a written statement that the wording of the proposed referendum was inspected before it was approved, and that signatures were checked to ensure they were by registered county voters who still lived at their legal address.

Ferguson said some of the signatures were rejected because they were illegible, but 962 were approved. A minimum of 500 signatures was required to place the question on the ballot.

"I'm very pleased that the petition was accepted," McGinness said. "Now I can devote my time to educating the public and putting the facts out — both pro and con — about this issue. Hopefully this will inspire people to become more involved in the political process."

The county executive would have more power than the current board chairman, McGinness said. In addition to veto power, an executive would have more control over the $63 million annual county budget because many of the administrative decisions currently made by County Board committees would be handled by the executive.

Under the current system, the chairman has no veto power or special control over judges, and Stan Fornaszewski and his Orchestra have something new to sing about: another album. The 14-member group, based in Granite City, recently released a second "big band" album called "Stan Fornaszewski and his Orchestra, Volume 2."

It is currently available on tape at Fornaszewski Music, Vintage Vinyl, Streetside Records, Webster Records, the St. Elizabeth Medical Center gift shop and by mail order. It will be available on compact disc July 25. Stan Fornaszewski said the new album is a continuation of the first. It was compiled, like the first, by requests from fans. The band took polls of the fan clubs, and their top choices went on the album.

The album features 15 titles, including a Stan Fornaszewski original called, "Hey! Let's Swing."

Vocal selections are "I Remember You," "You Make Me Feel So Young," "Moonlight" and "Green Eyes."

Bowles seeks 'motor voter' law

Lawmakers' failure to implement requirements of the new federal "motor voter" registration law could cause chaos and expense, Sen. Evelyn Bowles said. The Edwardsville Democrat was Madison County clerk for many years and was responsible for a number of elections before she was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Sam Vandebone of Edwardsville.

She joined other Democratic lawmakers last week in criticizing Senate President James "Pete" Philip's refusal to call the bill for a vote before lawmakers adjourned until November.

Philip spokesman Mark Gordon argued the alarm is premature since the bill that passed the House 110-4 Monday would not have taken

Superintendent search continues

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Madison school officials have decided to conduct their own search for a superintendent.

The School Board decided July 1 to forgo an offer by the Illinois Association of School Boards to conduct the search at a cost of about $3,000. Instead, the board has initiated its own search for an individual to replace outgoing Superintendent Dan Kostenick.

Kostenick, 48, announced last month that he has accepted a job offer to hold the same post in the Belvidere School District, near Rockford in northern Illinois.

The district has prepared a brochure advertising the vacancy and is offering a salary and benefits package in the mid-$60,000 range, said School Board President John Hamm.

About 450 copies of the brochure have been distributed throughout the country, Hamm said.

The board will meet in a special session at 5:30 p.m. Monday to discuss the progress of the search for a replacement for Kostenick.

Hamm said Thursday that seven to 10 applicants had responded to the advertisement and that board members are currently reviewing those applications.

"We should have (the field) narrowed down to the top two or four candidates Monday night. Hopefully, we'll be ready to make a recommendation by July 21, Dan's last meeting," Hamm said.

If the board can reach a tentative agreement on a single candidate, Hamm said, several board members may travel to the successful applicant's home town this week to conduct interviews.

Man charged with sexual assault

The son of a Madison County Sheriff's Department captain is in the Madison County Jail on $100,000 bond, charged with two counts of criminal sexual assault.

The Class X felony is punishable by up to 30 years in prison. James D. Newsome, 28, of Madison, the son of Capt. James "Ed" Newsome, Sr., the county's chief jailer, was charged Thursday with the crime, which allegedly occurred after 2 a.m. Wednesday, July 13.

Sgt. Theo Adams said the Venice Police Department was called to the 1000 block of Douglas Street early Wednesday. A 22-year-old woman was lying in the street, bleeding from the head and face, police reports state.

The victim told police that Newsome had gotten her into an abandoned car behind the Cut Rate Lounge. She said Newsome beat her with his fists on the head and face, causing swelling and bleeding, and then sexually assaulted her twice. Venice police also reported that in an unrelated incident on Wednesday a shooting occurred, also in the 1000 block of Douglas Street.

Police said a 20-year-old man reported that, while he was standing on Douglas Street, a maroon foreign-made car pulled up by him, and an unidentified person in the car fired one shot. The shot struck the man in the groin area.

Demolition of old school funded

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Madison school officials received good news last week when they discovered that the recently adopted state budget allocates $175,000 for the demolition of an abandoned and dangerous former school building in Madison.

The state budget includes special legislation for the specific purpose of demolishing the old Madison Junior High School building at Third Street and Alton Avenue, said outgoing Superintendent Dan Kostenick.

"This is good news for the school district and for the city," Kostenick said.

School Board President John Hamm said that demolition of the building, which has not been used as a school since 1980, would be impossible without the state help.

"That's been a real headache for us. It looked like it would remain a derelict building a long time."

Without this assistance, that

Gun trigger locks called necessary

The Center to Prevent Handgun Violence says someone's child is killed every two hours with a loaded gun. Other studies indicate 1.2 million latch-key children have access to guns.

In an effort to promote responsible firearm ownership, Barnes Trauma Service and Wal-Mart have joined together for a program called "The Key to Firearm Safety."

It takes aim at preventing firearm accidents through the use of trigger locks.

Brochures that contain discount coupons for trigger locks and outline steps for gun safety will be available at the Granite City Wal-Mart store through Aug. 15.

The brochures will also be distributed at local safety fairs and schools visited by Barnes Trauma Service staff members.

With the coupon, Master Lock Gun Locks can be purchased for the wholesale price of $6. The trigger locking device can be used to secure shotguns, rifles and handguns.

Trigger locks have been proved to be an effective, low-cost method for securing firearms, a spokesman said.

In addition to offering protection from tampering, trigger locks also prevent accidental discharge when a firearm is being loaded or cleaned and they make firearms unattractive to theft by making them inoperable.

"Trigger locks are a simple, inexpensive way to protect family members from accidental injury — it's a way to save lives," said Rick Flinn, director of Barnes Trauma Service.

"Many fatal home firearm accidents occur when youngsters — often children who do not live in the home — discover firearms that adults thought were safely hidden or inaccessible."

Proposed legislation debated in the Missouri House of Representatives calls for firearm owners to be held legally responsible if their weapon is accessed by a child and used to cause fatal injury to the child or any other person.

Trigger locks install easily over the trigger guard of a firearm.

Seniors create park in Mitchell

The dream of a beautiful park where friends could meet and have fun became a reality when senior citizens joined forces to build a pocket park on Thurgate Drive in Mitchell.

The Golden Acres Senior Park is now a regular meeting place where area senior citizens picnic, pitch horseshoes, play checkers and cards, and enjoy the outdoors.

The project began in 1987 when Clifford and Maxine Duniphan of Mitchell, with the support of the members of the Chouteau Township Senior Club, approached the Chouteau Township Board with their idea of converting a 6.48-acre tract of township land to a park.

The board approved the idea and worked with the group.

A community development fund grant was obtained and local businesses, members of Belleville Area College's Retired Senior Volunteer Program, the Chouteau Township Jolly Quilters, Boy Scouts and members of the senior citizens club built a pavilion, purchased picnic tables and planted trees and flowers.

"Dave Ferguson and Clifford Duniphan built bird houses and placed them in a number of the trees," she related. "They also built an owl nesting box and a duck nesting box and placed them near the small lake on the western edge of the park."

— Maxine Duniphan

"We love to come out here," said Maxine Duniphan, as she joined others seated at a picnic table.

"Dave Ferguson and Clifford Duniphan built bird houses and placed them in a number of the trees," she related. "They also built an owl nesting box and a duck nesting box and placed them near the small lake on the western edge of the park."

The Golden Acres Senior Park provides more than a quiet respite for seniors; it was the site of a fund-raising picnic for the 1988 flood victims of Chouteau Island.

"Each Thursday, members and volunteers tend the park's flower and herb gardens."

"Unfortunately, the heavy spring rains made it difficult to take care of some of the planting area," Maxine Duniphan said.

For information about volunteer opportunities in the Mitchell and Granite City area, or the Golden Acres Senior Park, persons may call 937-7018.

Tie vote blocks Pontoon annexation

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

On a 3-3 tie vote, the Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees on Tuesday night blocked annexation of a 21-acre site that would have included a multi-family housing development.

The proposal was submitted by BTL Enterprises, owner of the land is the Morris Investment Co. of Granite City.

With the mayor absent and unable to break the tie vote, approval of the project failed to gain the needed majority. No board members said why they supported or opposed the plan.

Multiple zoning has been proposed for the site, currently zoned for business. There is 400-foot frontage on Highway 111 next to the Pontoon Beach Baptist Church.

It is proposed to reserve the front area for business and the back area for housing.

In other action, several Pontoon Beach residents attended the meeting to question a fence that has been placed between the Quiet Valley residential area and lake property.

The board said the previous board, in 1992, made the decision to construct the fence and a barrier blocking traffic to the lake.

The barrier was constructed in 1992, but the fence was just recently erected.

The residents have no problem with the barrier, they said, but

Garden planned at school

Students in Christine Kelly's class at Blair School in Venice will get some botanical education next year with a small garden on school property.

For the past three years, the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) has given a grant to a teacher or school for the development of an outdoor classroom.

The grant serves as seed money to create interest, stir imagination and make real a commitment to teach students about the environment and create outdoor classrooms within Madison County.

This year's grant will be shared by Kelly and Marie Hackett of Columbus School in Edwardsville.

Kelly's grant will be used to build a small garden, on school property, where elementary students can experience growing a variety of plants.

Kelly is involved with the "Leaders in Teaching Elementary Science," a National Science Foundation project operating in conjunction with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Students will become "mini" farmers and also try to attract butterflies and insects for study concerning food chains, nutrition and scientific measurements for research.

Hackett pressed to work with the Nature Preserve Foundation to provide environmental education and "hands-on" contact with nature for students using the Watershed Nature Center resource in Edwardsville.

Larry Firkus of SWCD said grant winners were chosen through submitted proposals.

A review committee then selects the winner from the proposals. He explained that Hackett was actually the chosen winner, but because she only needed $320 of the $500 grant, Kelly will get $180 for her class.

Firkus said six teachers from Madison County submitted proposals for the grant.

because of the fence, many of the neighborhood children now are walking through people's yards. The board said that it would try to find a solution to the problem.

It was decided to condemn a building at 4055 Lake Drive, as the board found it a menace to public safety and a nuisance. The walls and roof of the building have collapsed and garbage has collected on the property, it was stated.

A business application from David Miller, who would like to start a towing service, was deferred. Board members were unsure of the type of zoning required for storage of vehicles.

While vehicles would only be stored at the business for a short period of time, the board wanted to be sure about zoning ordinances before granting a business license. The village attorney will look into the matter.

Tammy Shafer was granted a business license for a branch office of Combined Insurance of America. The business is located at 3804 Highway 118.

It was announced that the Pontoon Beach Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a public hearing at 4300 Horseshoe Lake Road at 5:30 p.m. Friday, July 22, on a petition by Richard P. Ryan and Billie E. Tindall Jr.

The village board will then hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 26.

The village board in late June rejected a zoning request from Ryan and Tindall, but later changed its mind. They proposed changing from agricultural zoning to B-2 General Business for a proposed roofing and construction company at the location.

Also on Tuesday, July 26, at 6:30 p.m., the board of trustees will hold a public hearing on the annual village budget.

The board approved a lone bid of $11,330 to provide Group 1, Class X, ready-mix concrete.

During committee reports, Trustee Janet Barringer reported that the Library Board recently reviewed seven applications for librarian.

Interviews will be held Thursday evening.

Barringer said there are plans to open the library Saturday, Aug. 20.

Efforts by Rep. Stephens are praised

TO THE EDITOR:

As a fifth-generation farmer, state representative and spokesman on the Illinois House Committee on Agriculture, I wanted to let your readers know how important Ron Stephens' efforts were.

The efforts I refer to were made to correct a misinterpretation referring to a state law requiring permits to haul farm machinery.

The State Police, Illinois Department of Transportation, Illinois Farm Bureau and representatives of farm implement dealers will meet to correct the misunderstanding.

Like Rep. Stephens, I co-sponsored the original proposal, which was designed to improve safety on highways used by farmers, not to burden them with paperwork and fees.

Rep. Stephens was one of the first to recognize that the State Police and IDOT did not correctly interpret the legislature's intent.

As one of the lawmakers recognized with the Illinois Farm Bureau's ACTIVATOR award for outstanding legislators, Rep. Stephens led the demands that the State Police and IDOT get it right for the farmers of Illinois.

I appreciate having a fellow lawmaker like Ron Stephens putting forth the effort to understand the needs and concerns of the state's farmers and winning the support of the agricultural community.

Effective ways to control Household Pests from the experts at

FRANK'S® NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

We've discussed lawn and garden pests over the past few months and some methods of control-ling them. But pests in the garden are only part of the problem. The ones that get into and around the house are a nuisance for everybody, gardeners and non-gardeners alike. So we're going to describe a few of the more common ones and how to make life miserable for them.

Crickets. They can chew holes in clothing, drapes, carpets and upholstery. That annoying chirp is made only by the males, and they do it by rubbing the file and scraper on their forewings together. To get rid of them, try Ortho-Klor Indoor & Outdoor Insect Killer or Home Pest Insect Control, all by Ortho.

Houseflies. These are common throughout the world. In addition to being annoying, they spread diseases and parasites. Flies feed on and lay their eggs in decaying organic materials. A good belt with a fly swatter will do the job to eliminate the occasional picnic-wrecker, but there are steps you can take to reduce the fly population around your home. Maintain sanitary conditions in the home and garden. Keep garbage cans tightly covered and emptied regularly, and keep window screens in good repair. Kill flies indoors with Ortho Home Pest Insect Control, Malathion or Outdoor Insect Fogger does the job outside.

Maggots. These rather disgusting-looking little creatures will eventually turn into flies. That is, if they live long enough. Use Home Pest Insect Control indoors and Malathion 50 Insect Spray or Outdoor Insect Fogger outdoors. These products, all made by Ortho, are very effective in ridding your surroundings of both flies and maggots.

Spiders. Many kinds of these can invade the home. With a few exceptions, they're quite harmless and can't reproduce inside the home. But since few people enjoy them crawling around, the spiders, along with the insects they feed on, can be eliminated with Ortho Roach, Ant & Spider Killer. To reduce the chances of them entering your home, fix cracks, inspect and repair windows and screens, and don't allow accumulations of debris outdoors.

Yellowjackets. These fall into the category of social wasps. But don't be misled. They're not friendly. They're so named because they live in colonies. These generally hover around patios, picnic areas, garbage cans and other areas where food or garbage may be found. They inflict painful stings when they're threatened or when their nest is approached. Unlike some bees, they are capable of repeated stings, along with a venom that can cause reddening, swelling, itching and for those sensitive to stings, dizziness, difficulty in breathing and even death. To minimize the threat of yellowjackets, keep food and garbage cans covered; and empty the garbage frequently. Before a picnic, spray the area with Ortho Outdoor Insect Fogger or place a baited Ortho Yellow Jacket trap downwind from the picnic area.

Ants. Considered social insects, ants are related to bees and wasps. They live in colonies or nests. Each colony has large, egg-laying queens, and wingless workers, all of them females. The males die off after mating. Many times ants will invade homes in search of food. To control them, use Ortho Diazinon Granules, Lawn Insect Spray or Diazinon Insect Spray.

Mosquitoes. There are many different species of this pest. In addition to their destruction of crops and ornamentals, they can transmit diseases. To control them, maintain door and window screens, and try to drain accumulations of stagnant water. Spraying Ortho Lawn Insect Spray or Malathion 50 around the lawn and foundation of the house is also quite effective.

Health department start-up would take two years

A Madison County health department could be giving immunizations and inspecting restaurants within two years if board members give it the OK.

"There is a lot to be done here and a lot of groundwork to be laid. It's not just something where we're going to throw the switch and there it is," county Administrator Jim Monday told a special session of the County Board Wednesday.

A health department, with 22 employees and an annual budget of $890,000, would be supported by state grants, fees and the tuberculosis clinic tax, which would probably be hiked by 0.7 cents to meet estimated costs, Monday said.

Ten of the 24 board members present asked questions during Wednesday's meeting, which was called to gauge board support for the health department proposal. Most of the questions concerned funding and the effect the department would have on agencies like the Family Service and Visiting Nurse Association of Alton.

"I'll be up to this board to decide whether to contract with those agencies. If we want to farm some of the health department duties out to FSNVA or Coordinated Youth Services then we can do that," board member Bob Stille of Edwardsville said.

None of the board members expressed direct opposition Wednesday. Stille has said he thinks the proposal will pass.

"My impression is it's going to be a close vote," he said after the meeting. He said he had the

After 50 years, dream may come true

Mary Butler was in her early 40s when she teamed up with a 19-year-old newspaper editor named Paul Simon to push for a Madison County health department.

Now, as Butler looks forward to her 92nd birthday, a county health department appears likely to be created by the end of the summer.

"I've wondered if we ever would get one before I conked out," she said Tuesday when she heard the County Board may vote to establish a health department by the end of August.

Butler, of Alton, was chairwoman of the Illinois Parent-Teacher Association's health committee in the mid-1940s when she teamed up with local labor leaders and the future U.S. senator to push for a Madison County health department.

"I had never been in a tavern before, but one night we were out looking for signatures on our petitions so we walked right into this little place and went up and down getting them to sign. They didn't sign all right, though. I don't think they were quite sure what we were up to. We did some crazy things, trying to get a health department around here," Butler recalled.

After 10 years of failed initiatives, however, she said she tired of being ignored by county officials and retired from the campaign.

"I really got tired of it myself. If no one was listening, it just didn't seem worth it to keep on pushing," Butler said.

Simon was the 19-year-old owner and editor of the Troy Tribune when Butler drafted him to join the health department campaign. The paper has since been bought and merged into the Troy Times-Tribune.

"We were out stumping for this one day when somebody asked Simon if he owned the Troy paper. He told them yes, him and the finance company owned it," Butler remembered fondly.

At the time, county officials were against the health department proposal because they did not want to spend the money, she said.

The board could vote as early as this week on whether to form a health department, but Stille said Wednesday he will probably delay the vote until August to give board members more time to look into the proposal.

If the board votes to form a health department, the next step would be to hire a director and apply for $175,000 in seed money from the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Officials said it would probably take about two years to compile a public health plan, hire and train staff and get state approval for the operation. They are aiming for a July 1996 opening date.

Local doctors, the general public and health care agencies such as FSNVA would have a chance to have their say on the public health plan before it is submitted to the state for final approval.

The plan would detail what areas of concern the health department would address and set goals for reducing the incidence of infectious diseases in Madison County.

State law requires health departments to provide four basic services: infectious disease control, well water and private sewage monitoring and restaurant inspections.

Preliminary estimates indicate the county could count on about $277,000 a year from the existing TB tax, another $365,000 in state grants and $124,000 in licensing, inspection and immunization fees, for a total of $766,000.

That would leave a $124,000 gap in the department's $890,000 budget, which officials said could be made up with a 0.7-cent increase in the 1.4-cent TB clinic tax.

The increased tax rate would cost the owner of a $50,000 house an additional $1.16 a year.

Volunteers helping flood victims in Southeast

With memories of the Great Flood of '93 still fresh in their minds, area Red Cross workers are pitching in to help victims of similar devastation in the Southeast.

American Red Cross volunteers Tod and Betty West of Troy left for Georgia Saturday and Red Cross disaster specialist Al Bertram of Duplo and volunteer Dale Pearson of Wood River were to depart today.

All are members of the Alton-Wood River chapter. They expect to be up to work assessing damages.

Flooding began after tropical storm Alberto brought torrential rains to the Southeast. The floods have affected 35 counties in Georgia, 13 in Alabama and 16 in Florida. At least 28 people have died in Georgia and at least one in Alabama.

The Red Cross estimates that as many as 7,500 families have been affected and the agency is providing first aid, food and shelter.

"We're looking forward to going down there," Bertram said. "It will be very busy."

Bertram said he and Pearson are flying to Columbus, Ga., but could be assigned elsewhere depending on need. Bertram expects to stay for three weeks; Pearson, a mechanic at Alton Mental Health and Developmental Center, is taking two weeks of vacation to help out.

Pearson and the Wests are registered volunteers in the Red Cross Disaster Services Human Resources Program. They have received disaster training and indicated a willingness to help where needed.

The Southeast floods will be Pearson's first assignment out side the area, but the Wests, who are retired, have helped in three earlier disasters this year: the California earthquake, tornadoes in northern Georgia and floods in Central Illinois.

Pearson's wishing to provide help for flood victims may send checks to their local Red Cross office. Checks can be marked for "Southeast Floods" or can be designated for a particular state, a Red Cross official said.

News stories you'll never read in the Post-Dispatch

SECOND IN A SERIES

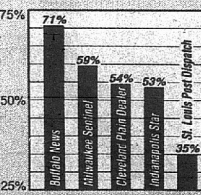

Daily Newspaper Coverage: St. Louis Doesn't Get It

The just-released ABC FAX shows the weekday circulation of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch has declined by more than 32,000 to 343,897, its lowest level since the demise of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. For those looking for a healthy daily newspaper, St. Louis just doesn't get it.

An analysis of other comparable markets shows that the St. Louis Post-Dispatch ranks well behind major newspapers in cities like Indianapolis, Cleveland and Milwaukee in household coverage, with only 35 percent penetration. Compared to daily newspaper advertisers in such cities as Kansas City, Portland, Ore., Long Island, N.Y., Dallas, Tex., and Rochester, N.Y., St. Louis daily newspaper advertisers receive less household coverage.

That's one of the reasons why St. Louis is home to America's largest group of community newspapers -- the Suburban Journals.

DAILY NEWSPAPER Household Penetration

According to the 1992 Belden Readership Study, the Suburban Journals have 1.4 million weekday readers compared to only 822,500 for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. For more of the story, call Marvin Nafolin at 821-1110.

Festival put area on the map

By Kelly Kribben
Staff writer

Hosting events for the 1994 U.S. Olympic Festival boosted economic development in the Metro East this past weekend.

"The national interest we're seeing here is phenomenal (during last weekend's events)," said Illinois State Sen. Frank Watson, of the 55th District. "We (in the Metro East) are receiving a lot of publicity from hosting events like sailing, track and field, and wrestling. I don't think people anticipated the response."

The sailing event itself drew about 4,000 spectators for the three-day event last weekend at Carlyle Lake.

"The long-term effect of hosting the sailing event is that people will recognize Carlyle Lake for what it is, not to mention that all facilities (in the St. Louis Metropolitan area) will benefit from the games."

The athletes were amazed with Carlyle Lake and its facilities, he added.

Mark Westhoff, marketing director for the Southern Illinois Tourism and Convention Bureau, said not only were families of athletes staying in area hotels but families on vacation also stayed in the area.

"I ran into 15 people (at Friday's sailing event) who were staying at the Hampton Inn in Fairview Heights. They were from Milwaukee and were literally visitors in the area," he said. "They were two families taking a vacation. They called ahead for information and looked at their map and thought Fairview Heights was the right location for them to stay."

The families knew the Olympic Festival was going on, but said they didn't expect to find other Southern Illinois sites like the Cahokia Mounds and Our Lady of the Snows Shrine to visit, Westhoff added.

"They (the visiting families) said they never expected to find all these things here," he said. "People don't realize what we have here."

Watson said the whole St. Louis area is seeing the benefits of hosting this year's Olympic Festival.

"It's united the St. Louis Metropolitan region to pull off a major recognized event like this," he said. "We're seeing a lot of spin-off benefit for the economy here."

Carlyle Lake event drew tourists

By Kelly Kribben
Staff writer

Tourists as well as local residents came out to enjoy a weekend of sailing at Carlyle Lake last weekend.

This largest man-made lake in Illinois was the site for the Olympic Festival's sailing competition. The lake, which boasts 83 miles of shoreline and 26,000 acres of water, was host to laser and mistral sailing competitions, with more than 42 competitors from around the country.

Mistral sailing is wind surfing on a board with a sail. Laser sailing involves small one-man sailboats.

Bernette Tonnesen of Breese stopped by Friday after work to see what it was all about.

"I just like to be out by the lake and watching the boats," she said on Friday. "Our local high school has a booth here to raise money for the band."

There were people there from other states — like George and Ginny Davis of St. Genevieve, Mo.

"We heard about this (sailing event) and thought we'd come out and see it. We are camping at Dam West just right up the road and they gave us a brochure on this," Ginny said.

"Yes, it's neat. I've never seen anything like this before and we started coming here a long time ago," George added. "I used to work at the old Farmers & Merchants Bank in Carlyle and watched them pour concrete on the dam after work. I had no idea this would become such a nice lake."

Joe and JoPat Frechette of Fenton (40 miles north of Carlyle), traveled by Harley to the area to catch some of the Olympic Festival events.

"We're staying in the Holiday Inn in Collinsville for three days," JoPat said. "We came out here just for this — this lake is beautiful. We're headed to St. Louis after this."

Then there were the people who really traveled a long way.

Anne Pfitzner, who came from Alaska, was on the shoreline all day taking pictures. A native of Highland, Pfitzner said she was back visiting her parents.

"I teach third-, fourth- and fifth-grade science classes in Alaska and I hope to get some good pictures to take back to my students," Pfitzner said. "This is great. I want to learn how to sail."

The Olympic Festival Sailing Competition drew 4,000 people during its three-day run. A record setting 650 people on Friday and 1,750 people on Saturday attended the event. Sunday's crowd tallied 1,500.

Perot supporters seeking slate of state candidates

Former supporters of Ross Perot's presidential bid are attempting to field a slate of candidates for statewide office.

"We are giving the voters another choice. People are tired of the games of the Democrats and Republicans and they want an alternative," said Dan Counts, a Granite City resident who worked on Perot's 1992 campaign and is spearheading a petition drive to get a third party on the November ballot. "We need 25,000 signatures by Aug. 8 and we're confident we can do it. This is a statewide effort," Counts said.

Petitions began circulating in mid-June in the Chicago area, Springfield, Peoria and in Madison and St. Clair counties. Backers were not sure Monday how many signatures have been collected.

If the petition drive is successful, candidates running for governor, secretary of state and seven other offices would appear on the November ballot as the United Independents Party.

The UIP gubernatorial candidate is David R. Reed of Chicago but Counts said no other biographical information would be released until the campaign gets under way.

Other UIP candidates include Jesse M. Dowell of Champaign, for lieutenant governor; Mary King Criss of Chicago, for secretary of state; Dan Kairis of South Elgin, for attorney general; Nora A. Feazel of Chicago, for comptroller; and Reinaldo Santiago of Chicago, running for treasurer.

The UIP would also field three candidates for University of Illinois trustees. All three are from the Chicago area. Their names were not available.

Counts said many of the people circulating petitions are former Perot supporters but the project is not sponsored by United We Stand America, the grass-roots political group formed by Perot backers after the end of his presidential campaign.

"If United We Stand got behind this, they'd lose their nonprofit tax status. They're not allowed to openly support candidates for political office," Counts said.

Similar third-party initiatives are under way in 32 other states, including Florida, where it is known as the Independence Party, Counts said.

A statewide convention is scheduled for Aug. 20 in Chicago.

"This isn't exclusively a Perot thing, though most of us involved right now got acquainted through the Perot movement," said Fran Mintert of Alton, who actively supported Perot's '92 campaign and is now circulating petitions for the UIP. UIP activists say they have the support of former Harold Washington Party members and Libertarians.

In 1992, six parties other than the Democrats and Republicans fielded candidates for statewide office. Those parties were the New Alliance Party, the Socialist Workers Party, the Populist Party, the Natural Law Party, the Libertarians and the Conservative Party of Illinois, according to a State Board of Elections spokeswoman.

"We won't know how many parties are on the ballot other than Republicans and Democrats until after Aug. 8, when all the petitions are due in," the spokeswoman said.

Methods available to cut investment risks

This is the first part of a two-part article on dollar cost averaging (DCA) and asset allocation. This week's article will cover DCA.

Today's individual investor sometimes feels as though they are at a disadvantage. Big institutional investors have sophisticated computer programs to reduce their risk and maximize their yields, but the average investor has no such luxury.

There are, however, two simple strategies that can benefit the individual investor in the same way program trading assists the institutional investor, and you do not need millions of dollars and a special computer program to take advantage of these plans.

DCA and asset allocation can benefit any investor, regardless of risk tolerance or financial goals. These two investment techniques are well tailored for the conservative investor who seeks greater returns than certificate of deposit offerings, but more security than offered by the stock market.

DCA gives investors an opportunity to use the inevitable volatility of the stock market to the advantage. Here is how it works:

The investor decides on a set amount to invest at regular intervals, regardless of the price of the security. The amount invested is consistent, allowing the investor to buy more shares when prices are low and fewer when they are high.

It is like buying $5 worth of tomatoes each month, all year long. During the summer, when tomatoes are plentiful and inexpensive, $5 will buy a basket full. During the winter, $5 will buy only a few tomatoes.

DCA does not guarantee profit or protect against loss in declining markets, but it does lower the average cost of an investment, whether the market is rising, falling or fluctuating, as in the following example:

An individual plans to invest $300 a quarter in the Nuts and Bolts Growth Fund over the next several years. This quarter, units in the mutual fund are selling at $10 each, so the $300 buys 30 units. Next quarter, if the price rises to $15 per unit, the $300 investment will buy only 20 units. For the third quarter, if the price slips to $5 per unit, the $300 investment will buy 60 units. Finally, in the fourth quarter, if the fund rebounds and the price rises to $10 a unit, the investor can buy 30 units.

In this example, the investor ends up with 140 units for a total investment of $1,200. That works out to just $8.57 per unit — even though the average market price for the same period was $10 ($10 + $15 + $5 + $10/4 = $10). In addition, by spreading the investment over a period of time, the investor can reduce their risk significantly.

Consider an investor who cashed in a $100,000 CD in October 1987. On Oct. 19, 1987, the Dow Jones Industrial Average plummeted 507 points. If the investor put the entire $100,000 into equities just prior to the drop, the investment would have lost a significant amount of its value on that single day. Now consider what would happen if the same investor divided the $100,000 into equal monthly deposits into equities from December 1986 to December 1987. Even taking into account the huge loss of October 1987, the investor could actually have made a modest profit for the year.

Investors should understand that dollar cost averaging is a long-term strategy, requiring continuous investment in securities, regardless of price fluctuations. Investors must consider the ability to continue buying stock when prices are low. If an investor follows a market trend or a hunch and invests more money during a given period, cost is no longer being averaged.

Many investors set up a dollar cost averaging system by automatically withdrawing a set amount from their checking account on a regular basis and depositing it into a mutual fund. Many financial institutions offer this service at no charge.

Brian Mulhall is a partner with America Group Financial Services. He can be reached in Granite City at 331-7222 or in Edwardsville at 692-3353.

Winner at Hudson Jewelry — Virgil Hudson, right, owner of Hudson Jewelry, presents Chris Hunter with the $1,000 gift certificate that Hunter won as part of the store's celebration of 50 years in business. Winners of $50 gift certificates were Ed Dohnal, Brenda Burlison, Rebecca Wells, Denise Johnson, Judy Eaker, Jamie Hobbs, Brian Hobbs, Zenda Moreland, Marion Morris and Sharon Mertz.

Two win preceptor awards

Cindy Engelmann of the Acute Medical Care Unit and Carolyn Hurst of the Critical Care Unit were recognized as Preceptors of the Year at St. Elizabeth Medical Center's associate (employee) awards dinner.

The Preceptor program is coordinated by Lora Wasko-Alexander, staff education coordinator, and Mary Anne Douglas, Critical Care clinician.

It trains chosen SEMC associates how to educate new or transferring associates about their job responsibilities.

For approximately one month, each preceptor teaches a new nurse the responsibilities of the job and guides the nurse through everyday situations.

This nurse is referred to as the preceptee. The goal is to ease the preceptee's transition into the work environment.

Preceptor of the Year candidates are nominated by a fellow associate or their unit's director. Jae Lynn Kuberski, director of AMCU, praised Engelmann for quality time she spent with her preceptee.

"Cindy possesses the qualities of patience and leadership," Kuberski said. "She gave her preceptee an excellent orientation and the opportunity for clinical experiences not only in AMCU, but in other departments."

"During the orientation she met with the critical-care clinician to discuss the needs of her preceptee. She thoroughly documented the orientation."

Engelmann is also a member of the education committee on AMCU, which develops educational tools for patients and staff.

Kathleen Gauen, director of CCU, nominated Hurst.

"Carolyn took full responsibility for her preceptee during the orientation," Gauen said. "She worked with her through a number of issues. She was excellent clinically, her documentation was superb and she took it all on with a positive and enthusiastic approach."

Hurst is also a cardiopulmonary resuscitation instructor and frequently participates with the Shadow Program.

"Carolyn maintains open communication, which can make a difficult situation workable," Gauen said. "The preceptor program has been a big growth experience for her, because even with the best of intentions, orientation is a testing period for the preceptor and the preceptee."

Other Preceptor of the Year nominees included: Sandy Wrigley, Intravenous Therapy; Mary Thovenot, IV Therapy; Marie Reine, 4-Doctors; Irv Schallenberg, 3-Surgical; Linda Nolan, 3-Surgical; and Donna Wiegand, 4-Doctors.

Top seller — Cathy Busch, broker associate with Coldwell Banker Brown Realtors, has closed more than $1 million in sales in the first half of 1994. Busch has been a full-time Realtor since 1978.

Band

The remaining 10 songs are instrumental, "Night and Day," "The Days of Wine and Roses," "You Stepped Out of a Dream," "Unchained," "Perfidia," "I Hadn't Anyone Till You," "Alone Together," "At Last," "Emilly" and "Idaho."

Foraszewski hopes the second album does as well as the first, "Stan Foraszewski and his Orchestra, Volume 1."

Volume 1 was released in January 1992 and has done well. Foraszewski said it has gotten steady airplay on 140 radio stations and three syndicates in Chicago, Texas and California.

The album is also available through Montpelier Records in England.

Stan Foraszewski and his Orchestra include Stan Foraszewski, leader, drums and vibraphone; Bonnie Foraszewski, vocal; John Steward, bass; Matthew Potts, piano.

Jason Kolman, alto saxophone and clarinet; Jason Swagler, alto and tenor saxophones and clarinet; Kim Depigian, tenor and alto saxophones and clarinet; and Steve James, bass trombone.

Jeff Strahlem, trumpet and flugelhorn; Joe Owens, trumpet and flugelhorn; Bill Sprenger, trumpet and flugelhorn; Bill Rust, trombone; Steve James, bass trombone.

The band works year-round performing for concerts, fund raisers, festivals, private parties and convention around the St. Louis area.

Special engagements have included stage appearances with many name entertainers such as Helen Reddy, Frankie Laine, Ray Starr, Les Elgart, The Fabulous Ink Spots, Scott Record, The Amazing Rhythmatics, Chuck Berry, Al Alberts and The Four Aces, Don Cornell, Johnnie Ray and the Nelson Riddle Orchestras.

Big-band concerts will be held by Stan Foraszewski and his Orchestra at 7:30 p.m. July 21, Aug. 11 and Aug. 25 at Wilson Park near the 27th Street and Delmar Avenue entrance.

Leader Foraszewski attributes the band's success to the variety of music it performs.

"Unlike most bands that label themselves as dance bands, sweet bands, whatever, we don't limit ourselves to just one or two styles of music."

"We are a 'big band' and our instrumentation allows us to play over 50 years of America's best-loved songs. No matter what crowd we work for, we always have something appropriate," he said.

The band's repertoire exceeds 600 compositions, over 55 hours of hits, ranging from swing, sweet, danceable jazz, standards, waltzes, polkas, latins, original showstoppers and modern pop favorites.

orities except for the authority to appoint the five-member Finance Committee.

However, current County Board Chairman Stellan Hagauer said he would be a strong challenger for more than two decades by keeping county board members satisfied.

Under the proposed system, the county executive is accountable to all voting residents, who elect an executive every four years.

McGinness said if the referendum is approved, he expects the first county executive to be elected in November 1996.

Madison County currently employs an administrator, but McGinness offered no opinion as to what might happen to that post if the new form of government is adopted by voters.

Will and Kane counties in northern Illinois have county executive forms of government. St. Clair County has a board chairman elected at-large, but it does not have an executive form of government.

McGinness is no stranger to implementing governmental change. Earlier this year, he headed a petition drive to place a referendum on the primary ballot proposing a reduction of the Granite City Council to seven from 14 aldermen.

The proposition passed overwhelmingly and is scheduled to take effect next April.

Jeff Schoenbourg, D-Evanston, speculated Philip was under the mistaken impression that if the bill passed now it would apply to registration for the November election and Philip was worried more Democratic voters would be added to the rolls.

Yet another theory came from Sen. Alice Palmer, D-Chicago, a black lawmaker, who speculated that Chicago Mayor Richard Daley did not want the bill to go into effect before his April reelection bid because he feared increased black registration favoring a possible opponent.

Schoenbourg denied Palmer's suggestion that Daley influenced House Speaker Michael Madigan, D-Chicago, to hold up the bill in that chamber until the end of the session.

Busy Bee honored by Chamber

Thomas and Eva Gitcho entered the bakery business in 1942 when they opened a bakery in Lincoln Place on Niedringhaus Avenue during the war years. They serviced the Army Depot, now known as the Melvin Price Center. The service men patronized the bakery buying hot doughnuts as they walked downtown. Tom traveled many times to Springfield, Ill., to receive sugar and flour allotments for his baking ingredients. Busy Bee also had a wholesale route, which served many area grocery stores. Tom and Eva always had a dream to build a bakery in Madison, so after purchasing property, they opened Busy Bee Bakery, 396 Madison Ave., on Aug. 22, 1947. Tom and Eva continued operating Busy Bee Bakery with their daughter and son-in-law, Agnes and Paul Freeman, coming into the business in 1955.

Tom and Eva remained very active in the business until Tom's health made him unable to work, so he retired from active production. In 1964, Paul and Agnes purchased the bakery from the Gitchos. In 1972, when an explosion across the street caused much damage to the front, a new entrance was established (handicapped access) with the renovation of a new, modern store.

Paul and Agnes continued to operate the bakery until the death of Paul. Agnes continues to operate the bakery with Eva, who is 80 years old. The bakery has been serving the area for more than 50 years. Doughnuts, danish, breads, pies and coffee cakes are "all made from scratch."

Busy Bee, honored this month as the Chamber of Commerce's Small Business of the Month, has been shipping its nut and poppy seed rolls to many states. Many ethnic pastries are also made.

Mark A. Hunter and Elizabeth A. Arnold have been with the company for 20 years. Deloris J. Wilson has been with the company for 13 years.

The Ruth Class of the Calvary Baptist Church met Tuesday evening in the fellowship hall for its regular monthly meeting. Prayer requests were made for Bill and Carol Ezell, Ron Weiss, Lorraine Wantland, Henry Borth, the Cahill family, Charles Sutton, Bill Dagon, Brooks Weir, Shiela Ward, Jim and Jerry Schieb and family and Ray Young. Bernice Boyer led in prayer. Maureen Lewallen gave the devotional on "Divide Your Sunshine" from Psalms 84:11 and Romans 12:10.

The treasurer's report was given by Pat Wallis. The secretary's report was given by Pauline Weir. A number of telephone calls were made by members under old business. Members were reminded to furnish cookies for bible school, to be held July 30 through Aug. 5.

Adult 4 Department will have a pot luck dinner at 5 p.m. on Aug. 18 in the Baptist Center. Norma Ray will have the Aug. 2 meeting in her home. The devotional will be given by Eileen Badgett. Ruth Dagon will plan games and gifts.

Plans were made to go to My Just Desserts restaurant in Alton for lunch on July 19, leaving the church at 11 a.m. Games were played and prizes were won by Ross, Weir, Pauline Hall, Dagon and Lois Stevens. Maxine Hoover served refreshments to Wallis, Lewallen, Boyer, Ross, Bivens, Hall, Dorothy Watkins, Dagon and Weir, who is also the teacher.

A family council meeting was held June 29 in the Caseyville Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. It began with the introduction of Shannon Dion, the new social services director, and Jo Thompson, the new administrator.

Thompson opened the facility years ago and went on to a regional position. He returned three months ago. A family council is a self-determining, independent group composed of families and friends of the residents. It can provide orientation and support to families of new residents, providing education and information, concerns and solve problems.

A new monthly meeting will be held at 10 a.m. on the last Saturday of each month. The Snyder family helped plan the meeting and donated attendance prizes to be given away. They agreed to be the coordinators in the stages of building a stronger family council.

Residents of the Caseyville Nursing Home celebrating birthdays in June are Julie Adams, 106, who was the wife of Allen Adams of Missouri. She spent most of her days working on the farm or taking care of her family. She has a daughter, Lois Thomas. Others celebrating birthdays are Flora Baker, Anna Rozewski, Joe Stringer, Dorothy Mistler, Irvin Green, James Spagna and Hattie Martinez.

Two leaders and six girls representing three Madison County Baptist Association churches attended the four-day National Acteens Convention, ending Friday, June 24, at Birmingham-Jefferson Civic Center.

Pagantry, missionary testimonies and commissioning service, a birthday celebration, conferences on such topics as gangs, race relations, sexual abstinence and an array of missions ministry opportunities competed for the attention of 13,500 southern Baptist teen girls and the leaders.

They learned a song, "Heart of the Journey," written by Michele Wagner of Cleveland, a contemporary Christian singer.

A procession of flags of 126 countries where missionaries live and work led a challenge to commit to take the Christian message. Testimonies were given by missionaries who work with Navajo Indians in New Mexico to mobile home parks and apartment complexes in Jackson, Miss., on the results of vacation-bible-school-and-tutoring.

To show compassion for others, the girls donated more than 5,000 teddy bears and more than 7,000 pair of shoes to distribute to the needy.

The birthday of Helen Galloway was celebrated Saturday evening at a cookout and barbecue at the home of Tom and Kathy Green. A dinner, birthday cake and ice cream were enjoyed by Kathy L. Green and daughters, Kari and Kourtney; Delores Holton; Maxine Green; and Wanda Dawson.

Mike Sr. and Diana Corrado and son, Mike Jr., have returned home from Dexter, Ky., where they visited Roy and Hilda Higgins. They also visited some historical sites and enjoyed fishing in Twin Lakes, where Mike Jr. caught a 10-pound bass.

Memorial's experienced emergency professionals provide emergency care when you need it - 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Last year, over 39,000 of our friends and neighbors counted on Memorial's skilled emergency professionals when they needed emergency medical care.

Memorial's Emergency Department is ready to meet your needs whether you need trauma-level emergency care in Memorial's up-to-date Emergency Department - or care for less serious conditions in our conveniently-available FAST TRACK service.

As this area's largest emergency services provider, Memorial's Emergency Department offers:

- 10 specially-trained emergency physicians from Belleville Emergency Physicians - treating emergencies is their full-time specialty - not just a sideline. And, Memorial staffs more emergency physicians 24 hours daily than other area hospitals.

- 35 experienced registered nurses - all certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support - most are Trauma Nurse Specialists.

- The area's largest emergency department with 20 trauma treatment areas, six private FAST TRACK rooms, two x-ray rooms, adjacent trauma-level operating rooms, as well as Memorial's full spectrum of modern diagnostic and treatment services.

- The area's original FAST TRACK service for less serious conditions not needing trauma-level care. Our FAST TRACK has a separate physician and nursing staff - 12 hours every day - when your physician may not be available and when you need it.

When you need it, Memorial provides the innovative and convenient emergency care you expect from this area's leader in emergency services.

Despite being tied with East Alton at the time of the Mon-Clair League All-Star meeting, the Granite City Eagles certainly deserved being asked about a three-peat.

Not since 1986, when Waterloo won a fourth straight playoff crown, has a Mon-Clair team had the opportunity to dominate in a fashion like Granite City.

With a 14-4 league record prior to Sunday's games and a second straight Valmeyer Tournament championship, the Eagles are right on track for playoff bonors.

THEIR SECRETS? Youth is one factor. The team's average age is 24, and player/manager Daren DePew is just 29. Another ingredient is that the 10-4 overall mark prior to today represented one of the lowest game totals for any team in the league.

"We've had no financial problems and have had to rely on Lance Callis (a Granite City attorney) for the bulk of our contributions," DePew said.

Without more money, the Eagles haven't played in the Wednesday Night League the past three seasons and have concentrated on M-C action.

"We've had to learn how to get ready for the weekend, and it appears the more we do it the better we get," DePew said.

While 10 Eagles are GCHS graduates, DePew says the team has together in game preparations, including for the Mon-Clair All-Star Game this Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Waterloo. If they are not practicing on a Thursday evening, several of the players will meet at a local batting cage.

THE EAGLES' top pitcher has been righthander Daren Hendrickson, who was 7-2 with a 1.88 ERA before Sunday. The MVP at Valmeyer, Hendrickson will be joined by eight teammates on the North Division All-Star team.

Other starters from Granite City will be first baseman John Moad (.373), second baseman Doug Duncan (.415) and center fielder Tim Hogan (.500). Reserves include infielder Jamie Hogan (.292), outfielder John Spotsanski (.441), catcher DePew (.255) and pitchers Bob Spotsanski (2-0, 4.82) and Brian Harshany (4-1, 1.93).

EXTRA INNINGS: Jim Blackledge, whose East Alton team had defeated Granite City in its first two meetings, will manage the North All-Stars, including starters Todd King (.418), left fielder Brian Kasting (.327) and catcher Shaun Watson (.403) of East Alton; third baseman Brent Ward (.310) of O'Fallon; right fielder Jason Ford (.454) of East St. Louis; and designated hitter Todd Hansel (.403) of Edwardsville.

Reserves include infielders Don Stovall of East St. Louis, Jeff Smith of East Alton and Steve Flowers of Edwardsville; outfielders Pat Hake and Todd Carter of Edwardsville; catcher Art May of East St. Louis; and pitchers Matt King and Brian Gonterman of East Alton, and Tony Fornoso of Edwardsville.

Waterloo dominated the South Division team and had 10 players selected. Starters are shortstop Jeff Kaiser (.400), outfielders Jim (.490) and John Wahlg (.380), pitcher John Baxmeyer (.431), designated hitter Mike Wirth (.506) and pitcher Larry Shikles (.8-1, 1.33). Other starters are first baseman Brett Crawford (.474), third baseman Dan Degener (.390) and outfielder Chris Crabbree (.333) of Valmeyer, and second baseman Pete Wessel (.468) of Millstadt.

Reserves are infielder Neil Flala, outfielder Clay Moehrs and pitchers Brian Smith and Todd McClure of Waterloo; infielder Gary Floarke, outfielder Tim Meyer (.354) and pitcher Mark Unsworth of Valmeyer; infielder Bobby Moore, designated hitter Jeff Harres, outfielder Chris Crabbree and pitcher Mike Pascualene of Millstadt; infielder Eric Barnard and pitcher Joel Sigman of Belleville; and pitcher Mike Williams of Sauget.

Eight-inning rally hands Triplets win

Edwardsville miscues pave way to 6-3 victory in extra innings

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

With the season winding down and the North Division standings heating up, the Tri-City Triplets are gladly taking any wins that might come their way.

Edwardsville was the latest team to oblige on Friday night as the Triplets hung on for a 6-3 victory in eight innings. A three-run rally full of giveaways by Edwardsville in the top of the eighth lifted visiting Tri-City to its second straight victory.

The Triplets were coming off Thursday's 6-4 win at Wood River, when they capitalized on several miscues in the seventh to pull ahead and avoid extra innings. Friday's win lifted Tri-City to 12-5 and helped the Triplets keep pace with Alton in the race for the North Division title.

"IT WASN'T pretty, but we won," Tri-City manager Doug Winfield said. "We need every one we can get."

Tri-City starter Corey Dickerson went the entire eight innings and improved to 6-1. The Triplets committed three errors in the game, and only two of the three runs Dickerson gave up were earned.

Dickerson and the Triplets took a 3-2 lead into the bottom of the seventh. With one out, Chris Edwardsville, however, collapsed in the top of the eighth. Starting pitcher Bryan Van Hook, who took the loss, hit Jason Wood to begin the inning. Jason Talley reached safely when first baseman Brad Evans mishandled a throw on a ground ball, and Talley and Wood moved up to second and third on a double steal.

Offense explodes in two-game sweep

By Rob Raphael

When it rains, it pours, and the Breese Junior Legion pitchers learned that fact in a hard way Friday night.

The skies were clear — it was the Tri-City bats that were raining hits — as the Junior Triplets swept a doubleheader at Varsity Field, 11-1 and 23-0. Only the first game counted as a league contest.

It was the biggest offensive output of the year for the Junior Triplets (12-7-1), as all 15 players who dressed for the games got at least one hit. Steve Logan led the Tri-City assault, going 7-for-8 in the double dip.

BRIAN LLOYD HAD four hits and reached base six times. Shaun Kuehnelt, Keith Simon and Billy Nieport also tallied three hits apiece for the Triplets, who totaled 31 hits on the night.

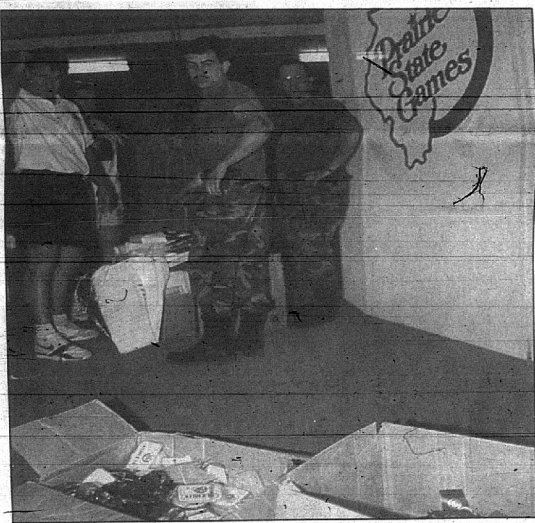

The pitching held its own as well. Tri-City manager Jerry McKeehan said all of his pitchers fared well Friday night.

"Everyone threw well tonight, it was a total team effort," McKeehan said. "We played as perfectly for two games as we can."

Kuehnelt was the starter and winner in the first game, and Pat Schuman picked up the victory in the second game. McKeehan said his pitching staff is well rested and ready for Monday's game at Wood River.

"A couple of the last few games really gave me a chance to rest some of my players, including pitchers," McKeehan said. "We are set now with a three or four-man rotation and at least two good relievers to bring in if we need to. I couldn't be happier right now."

Big-league Stars
Venice/Madison squad rises to occasion at BuschBy Rob Raphael Correspondent

It was the best place around to play a ballgame, and the Venice/Madison Young Stars played their best game of the season.

The Young Stars, members of the St. Louis-based Matthews-Dickey RBI league, got the thrill of a lifetime Tuesday when they played the Dodgers of St. Louis at Busch Stadium.

The result was a hard-fought 5-4 loss to the Dodgers, who are one of the leaders in the RBI League. Earlier in the season, the Dodgers defeated the Young Stars 12-1, so Stars manager Dean Johnson Sr. was pleased to see his team continue its improved play.

"We have come a long way since we played there earlier this year," he said. "The Dodgers are just about the best team in the league, and we had a chance to beat them Tuesday."

JOHNSON SAID his team had the bases loaded in the final inning of the game Tuesday.

"One more hit would have won the game for us," Johnson said. The games at Busch Stadium are limited to 1 hour, 45 minutes each.

James Buckles Jr. was the starting pitcher for the Stars, who fell to 2-1 in the league. Buckles went the distance, striking out seven and adding a triple at the plate. Lamont Edwards added a home run for the Stars. "No, he didn't hit it out of Busch Stadium," Johnson said. "He did hit it out into the gap, however."

"Our record does not indicate how far we have come since the beginning of the year. This league is similar to a senior Khoury or Legion league, and only five or six of the kids had ever played at this level before. But every game, we get better."

Johnson said his team usually plays at Fairgrounds Park or Copf Papa Bell stadium in St. Louis, and all the players enjoyed the experience of playing in a big-league ballpark.

"IT WAS QUITE a pleasure," he said. "The field is so perfect; it's a lot different than what we are used to. Plus, we got to wear Cardinal uniforms."

He said the Cardinals organization supplies the uniforms and equipment for the teams. Otherwise, all expenses come from personal donations to the Matthews-Dickey Club.

"We (the coaches) don't get paid anything, and we spend a lot of our money getting the boys back and forth to the games," he said. "But we're not complaining, we love what we do."

Johnson said he and the other coaches give the (See STARS, Page 4B)

Triplets edge
Wood River;
Ridenour hurtBy Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Tri-City Triplets snapped a brief losing skid at two games Thursday with a 6-4 win at Wood River, but they still suffered their toughest loss of the season.

Outfielder Jeff Ridenour, considered the area's top high school player last spring, broke his hand while diving for a foul ball in the third inning against Wood River. Ridenour stayed in the game for the rest of the inning but was forced to leave in the top of the fourth.

Ridenour had X-rays taken and learned he had fractured his left hand. The Triplets' standout hitter received a cast Friday and is expected to miss the rest of the Senior Legion season.

"I THINK I'M done for the season," Ridenour said. "The way it's broken, they said it could be a minimum of six weeks."

Ridenour, playing right field, suffered the injury with two outs in the third when he lunged to hard the foul line for a fly ball hit by Wood River's Mike Zange. The ball landed just outside the foul line, and Ridenour's glove hand struck the field at an awkward angle.

Horoscope

Sunday, July 17
The second quarter-of-the-moon phase encourages everyone to think big. Remember that all types of daily rituals have a dramatic impact on the subconscious. Release your creative forces. Others may not be receptive to teamwork, but it is the secret to financial success this week. Lovers discover that the less they try, the more a reluctant partner fulfills his or her desires.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Special events call for new attire and a change in personal appearance. Avoid quibbling with a subordinate when your decision is final. Shop around — bargains simply present themselves. A lover demands your attention.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Exploration of unfamiliar territory leads to an adventure. Keep careful notes and records of necessary information. Buy souvenirs for family members. A business associate makes a romantic invitation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
Get better acquainted with a colleague away from the office. A spouse or lover leaves specific instructions. Invest, and save specific notes rather than gambling with them. Participate in sports and social activities.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
Visitors drop by unannounced. Have patience with frustrating work or school situation. Confirm dates and times with professionals. Close friends relieve you of tough jobs. Make a payment ahead of time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Cast the deciding vote in a family dispute. A colleague lives up to his or her reputation. Part-time work is more lucrative than usual. Married friends are full of romantic advice. Stick to a resolution.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Success depends on using your imagination. Technical difficulties take more time than ingenuity to overcome. Follow through on a promise. A partner needs a shoulder to cry on. Try doing something yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
A new love interest proves to be a kindred spirit. Be conscientious about long-distance correspondence. Avoid buying daily necessities on credit. Solicit a pal's help to finish a project on time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
Keep in touch with a spouse or lover throughout a separation. Outdoor recreation promotes new friendships. Avoid competition with an old friend. Luck involves a wager.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
A matchmaking friend or relative proves his or her genius. Be candid with a love interest from the beginning. Letters produce better results than phone calls. Resist a temptation. Collaborate on a creative project.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
By facing a problem directly, others are not so judgmental. A conversation brings a lover closer. Financial difficulties are resolved with an unusual solution. Avoid antagonizing authorities — keep quiet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Meetings and confrontations go off without a hitch. Children are angels. A spouse or lover is affectionate — bring up sexy subjects.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
Family gatherings and parties are full of surprises. Let a love interest in on a secret. A relative brings up a touchy subject. Avoid making rash financial decisions. A new game or business strategy is effective.
